HONORONO, PRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1895. AT yealerday's meeting of the Sanitary Board a note of warning was struck by the Chinese laundrymen. With the laudable object of preserving the health of the European residents, the Sanitary Board has enacted certain bye-laws for the regulation of Chinese laundries. In themselves, there is nothing objectionable in the bye-laws. They enforce cleanliness, and thereby minimise the danger of transmission of disease. They prevent the use of the laundry as a sleeping room for the laundrymen Except in some cases where the laundry master will have to rent another room for sleeping accommodation to his workers, little or no additional expenditure is entailed. As Mr N. J. Ede, the Unofficial member of the Board, says the bye-laws are neither oppressive nor unreasonable. There is no legitimate reason why the laundrymen should The P. M. s. a. This belief must be dissipated. It will never do to allow these Chinamen to be the authorities on what is or is not necessary for the proner administration of this Colony. In The O. S. S. Co.'s a. s. Surpedon, from their petition they say it is impossible. to obey the law. It is the duty of the authorities to teach them that it is possible to obey the law, and that the law cannot be infringed with impunity. Neither the Government nor the The P. & O. a.s. The imperative that every Chinese combination should be successfully combated, and it will be infinitely easier to fight the hundrymen than it was break down the recent coolin strike, when the owners of the ledging houses exerted their power to paralyse the shipping interests and manufacturing inclustries of this Colony. "It is comforting to know that if the laundrymen are so misguided as to institute another strike the authorities wil he able to take measures whereby the dirty lines of the Colony can be promerly cleansed. In itself a strike of laundrymen is not of much importance but the principle involved is, and when an opportunity like this occurs the Government must demonstrate to the whole of the Chinese that although they are ruled with a light hand the Governto the deportation of all ringleaders. 'To Hon. W. C. H. Hastings.-Petitioners, who are the masters of washermen's shape, present the petition, and state that several regulations concerning the washermen's shops were sent them by the Sanitary Board, which they ought to Doey, and not to violate, but their poor business fully relies on their workmen, whose wages cannot be reduced, and the price which they obtain from their customers cannot be raised. Moreover, the price for food is dearer, and the rent for their shops has recently been raised. If new regulations are to be made, their hardships will be more than usual, has been proposed that only one man is allowed to look after a washerman's shop, so that they have to rest a shop for washing clothes, and another for abode. and men and articles are to be set spart. BIBERIA AS BREN BY A JARANESE. A Japanese gentleman who went to Manchuris in June, 1893, and recently returned, after travelling extensively in Mongolia and Russian Siberia, has given the following opinion on the Russian army: Russia is not a country to be dreaded, the difference between its army and that of China being insignificant. He learned for the heat time that war was being waged between Japan and China in September last while travelling in Mongolia. On entering Siberia, he directed keen attention to the movements of the Russians in connection with the war and he observed that the commotion among them was very great. Young men were enlisted in various lucalities, and, owing to the scarcity of provisions, money and food were levied in all localities through which the army passed. The arms and uniforms of the soldiers were disorderly in the extreme. As illustrative of the cowardly material from which the ranks are recruited, a tale is tolt anent an itinerant Japanese dentist in Siberia who, from abject poverty owing to dearth of business, suddenly found himself rolling in affluence with more work on his hands than he could attend to. All the young men from the country round about insisting upon having their testh extracted. The dentist having no notion that war was in the wind, wondered why the men wanted to shed their sound incisors till he learned that they did so in order that they might be incapacitated from serving as soldiers. This tale demonstrates the fact that, while the Lapanese youths are pretending to be of The French have routed the entire Hove age in order that they may go to the front and fight, the Russians on the other hand are willing to mutilate themselves to avoid east things further states that owing to the enlistment of all the able-bodied farmers, and the levying of food and money from the people, a famine now prevails in Siberis. -

RACE BETWEEN MAIL STEAMERS.

Japan Advertiser.

A passenger by the R. M. S. Liquria. which arrived on Saturday, writes: - When both the wessels left Port Melhourne on the evening of the 22nd instant, it was the avowed intention of each to be the first in Sidney. But, as luck would have it, the German steamer had the start by two hours. and those interested in the race naturally concluded that the Suchsen would have an casy rue round. It was not till midday on the 23rd that the Liquria came in sight of her rival about eight miles ahead, and from the cloud of smoke that arose from the Sachson's funnel it was evident that her people had woke up to the fact that they would have to bestir themselves or else be badly beaten. The Ligurians fencied that there might just be a chance of the old ship ng able to show them the way. And then began as hard and as fair a race as ever took place in these waters. All the alternoon and night, the Sachsen kept bravely on, but the "old colonial favorite" seemed to know what was expected of her. as vard by yard she crept up on her rival, until at 10 30 a.m. on the 24th the race became desperate. A ORICKET 'HARD CASE.'

A cricket o itio in a home paper alludes to an undoubted hard case which should be provided for in the rules : - e

Sydney Daily Telegraph, August 28.

The manner in which Lockwood was out yesterd y at the Oval was one of the most curious things seen in first-class cricket for some time, and opens up the old point as to whether or not the ball should be considered dead directly it touches the umpire. Mr Walter Re d drave the ball back very hard, and under ordinary circumstances the bit would have gone for hes or four, but sa it was it struck the umpire, and cannoned to Brigge, whom it went on to the wicket and Lockwood, who had just started backing up,

It was excremely unlucky for a man slightest doubt as to Lockwood being out, but and take them as an example. Officials and merchants are constantly detained here waiting for steamers or making preparations for journeys inland by native boat. There is little for them to see, and a showyard of various foreign appliances and kinds of machinery, if well maintained, would probably prove an attractive place of resort. Chinese like to be able to see what they are going to buy and to know its cost beforehand. Circulars and oatalogues convey to them little idea of what is in question and no idea of the cost. A constant obstacle to purchasing is the fear that the article when purchased will be useless without practical explanation beforehand, and if injured cannot be repaired There is no reason why a showrard should be imited to machinery. Experience in Shaughai and elsewhere has shown that well kent shops of toys, ornaments, clocks and lamps, &c., pay very well, no matter how expensive the articles are. But unless the shops are attractive and Chinese oustomers are encouraged to frequent them, the undertaking is not likely to prove remunerative.
